LETTER SIX YEARS LATE.

Girl's Acceptance of Proposal Goes Astray, Each Weds Another. MORGANTOWN, W. Va., January 12 .-Because of the snail-like manner in which Uncle Sam sometimes delivers mail, Mrs. James Wormser is not the wife of Cecil G. Morris, both having married since that day six years ago when the present Mrs. Wormser wrote a letter from her home at Webster Springs and accepted the proposal of Morris, who resided at Rivesville. The letter was six years traveling 200 miles, and, when it finally reached Morris it was too late. The letter was mailed in 1906. It reached Rivesville, Morris' former home, two days after it was mailed, as the postmark shows. Where the letter has been all these years cannot be ascertained. Supposing the failure of the woman to answer was a rejection of his pro-posal, Morris married another. The woman, believing he had changed his mind after receiving her acceptance, also married another.

HOBOES EXCHANGE LEGS.

Knot on One Limb Enables Judge to Settle Ownership.

PHILADELPHIA, January 12.-John Slocum of Boston was arrested as a vagrant and locked up. When he went to bed he unstrapped his wooden leg and stood it in a corner of his cell Soon afterward Harry De Ville was put in the same cell with Slocum. He, too, took off a wooden leg and stood it in a corner. De Ville was the first to awake this morning. He put on a leg and told Slocum he'd better stir himself. When Slocum put on his leg he found it an inch too long. De Ville tried his leg then and found it an inch too short. It was a good deal metter leg, though, and he re-

During lucid intervals they said they were from Key West, Fla., and had been blown to sea in a gale. They were in the open boat for ten days, during which time they sighted several vessels, but could not make their signals seen. They are not yet able to give their names.

GIRL, 16, KILLS INSULTER.

Poisons Her Employer, and Then Crushes His Skull. GRASSY, Mo., January 12.-Word has reached here from a remote part of the county that Mary Bowman, a sixteenyear-old girl, has confessed to the killing of Phil Duncan, in whose home she was employed. She will be taken to Lutesville, the county seat, for arraignment Insults on the part of Duncan, the girl asserts, caused her to place poison in his food. He began to grow sick and accused her of poisoning him. He sent for a physician, and she picked up a sledge-hammer and crushed his skull. When the physician arrived and asked who committed the crime the girl admitted her guik. Duncan had insulted her many tim
